MasterClass

RE: Software Engineer

Dear Hiring Manager, I was excited to learn about the web developer/software engineer position with MasterClass. I am confident in my ability to learn quickly, communicate effectively, and devote my time to getting up to speed.

I've closely reviewed the needs and requirements for this role and believe that my qualifications and studies in a full-stack bootcamp, along with my personal projects and freelance work, have prepared me to contribute immediate value to your organization.

As a court reporter, I have had experience performing accurately under stressful conditions while maintaining relationships with high-level, demanding clients. I also kept up to date on the latest technologies and software developments in that field.

I feel that I am a perfect fit for this position as I can start contributing immediately as well as have room to grow. I look forward to speaking with you about how my skills may align with the position's objectives. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Seth Zwerling
